

NEW DVDs

March 2017

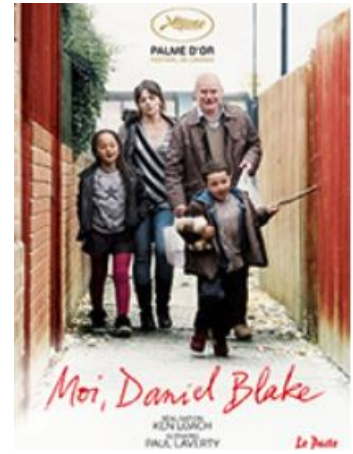

I, Daniel Blake / Ken Loach – 2017

Languages: English and French

Subtitles: French

DVD (397)

Widowed joiner Daniel Blake (Dave Johns) finds himself trapped in Newcastle's benefits bureaucracy as his heart condition means he can neither take a job nor claim Jobseekers' Allowance. As he struggles to maintain his dignity, he befriends single mother Katie (Hayley Squires)

Colonia / Florian Gallenberger– 2016

Original languages : English and Spanish

Subtitles: French

DVD (398)

Colonia opens with contemporary news reports and other archival footage about Chile in 1973, during the last months of Salvador Allende's presidency. The film is inspired by real events that took place at Colonia Dignidad, the site of a cult that collaborated with Augusto Pinochet's military junta to overthrow Allende's government.

Brooklyn village – Little men / Ira Sachs – 2017

Languages English and French

Subtitles: French

DVD (399)

An insightful drama of adolescent friendship and adult frailty. No one is entirely in the right or entirely in the wrong – and it is Sachs' even-handed empathy that makes "Little Men" all the more rewarding.

